Art Unit: 2612

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hall.

Hall discloses a warning signal light comprising a support 22 having a front and a rear, a plurality of light emitting diodes 16 engaged to the front and rear for receiving power from source 28, and control means (col. 6, line 6) to produce two different warning light signals in one combination consisting of flashing and rotational beacon sequencing (col. 7, lines 55-61), except for specifically stating that the control means is a controller or that the warning light is in a light bar.

Since Hall teaches that any combination of circuit boards and housings can be used (col. 8, lines 20-25), choosing to use devices as disclosed by Hall in a light bar arrangement would have been an obvious manner of intended use.

Use of a controller as the control means would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, since controllers are well-known control means for controlling light output in an efficient, accurate manner.

Regarding claim 2, Hall teaches use of circuit board 22 (col. 7, lines 23-40) and internal enclosure 24 (Fig. 2).

Art Unit: 2612

2. Regarding remarks filed with the response on 1-9-07, on page 7 it is stated that Hall cannot activate light emitting diodes to produce at least two different warning light signals in at least one combination.

However, Hall teaches combining intermittent lights with progressive sequencing lights, to give the combined appearance of a rotating beacon (col. 7, lines 58-64), thus satisfying limitations of two different warning light signals in at least one combination.

Regarding remarks on pages 10-11, applicant has submitted information to overcome use of Lau as prior art, and therefore, rejection of claims 3,11,13,4-7 and 12 have been withdrawn.

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
